DAY 1

Finish this famous Nike slogan in the space below by filling in the blank.

Just _____ It!

These three words don't just apply to sports. Loving others requires this same kind of mentality. Because there's a BIG difference between saying you love and showing you love. When it comes to love, you can't just talk about. You actually need to get busy showing it.

Grab a piece of paper. Draw a large heart on the page and write out the words of today's verse. Come up with a short tag line or slogan that helps you remember to show love this week.

Ask God to help you show love with your words, and with your time and actions this week.

DAY 2

Who are the people in your life that you know love you? Your parents? Your friends? Teachers? Siblings?

How do you know they love you?

When it comes to love, there's a certain order of things. Instead of thinking about what you want, loving God's way means we think about others first. That's what the people who love you do all the time. In order to love others with our time, we need to put them first.

Using a marker, write in one person's name, maybe someone you've had a hard time showing love to lately, in the blanks. "Love _____ deeply. Honor _____ more than yourself." Read the statement aloud and ask God to help you show love by treating him or her the way you want to be treated.

Pray that God would help you follow through in loving and honoring the person you've chosen.

Read Proverbs 17:17

DAY 3

According to today's verse, when does a friend love?

At _____ times.

Should a friend love when life is great, the sun is shining, and everyone is happy? Yes! Should a friend love when things aren't so awesome, when a friend is hurting or when things are hard? Absolutely.

True friends choose to love in good times and in bad. True friends stand by each other when things are going well and when the road gets bumpy.

Can you think of a friend that's having a rough time right now? Maybe a grandparent is sick. Maybe a parent lost a job. Maybe your friend is struggling in school. The best thing you can do is simply be present. You don't have to try to fix things. You just need to remind your friend that you are here to listen. Ask God to help you be the kind of friend who loves at ALL times.

Read 1 Corinthians 16:14

DAY 4

When is it hardest to love?

Did you know that choosing to love in those "hard" times is even more important than loving when it's easy? We know this because Jesus loves us at all times. He loves us when we listen and when we think our way is better. He loves us when we say something kind and when we spout off hurtful words we don't really mean.

Because we are loved always, we should love others always. God wants us to do everything in love. He wants us to show love with our actions, the things we do and with our words, the things we say.

Go on a heart search! Grab a piece of paper and cut out several hearts. On each heart, write the words of today's verse. Then hide your hearts around the house so that different people in your family will find them. See below for some hiding spot ideas. When a "heart" is located, talk to the finder about how you've been challenged to be loving in everything you do!

Know that God loves you. Ask Him to help you do everything in love!

the fridge, a sibling's shoe, the front seat of the car, on someone's pillow, under the remote
